Hypothetical growth of $10,000 investment since inception

Class R3 without sales charge 03/01/2019 to 03/31/2025

The chart illustrates the performance of a hypothetical $10,000 investment made in the fund on commencement of operations. Figures include reinvestment of capital gains and dividends, but do not reflect the effect of any applicable sales charges or redemption fees, which would lower these figures. This chart is not intended to imply any future performance of the fund.

Average annual total returns and expense ratios (%)

The data shown represents past performance, which is no guarantee of future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Please see transamerica.com for performance data current to the most recent month-end. The investment return and principal value of mutual funds will fluctuate over time so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Net asset value (NAV) returns include reinvestment of dividends and capital gains but do not reflect the deduction of any sales charges. If a sales charge had been deducted, the results would have been lower. Performance for other share classes will vary.

There are no sales charges for Class R3. Class R shares are only available through eligible retirement accounts.

Performance figures reflect any fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements by the Investment Manager. Without such waivers and/or reimbursements, the performance would be lower. Future waivers and/or reimbursements are at the discretion of the Investment Manager. Contractual arrangements, if any, have been made with Transamerica Asset Management, Inc. through 3/1/2026.

Risk measures are in comparison to the fund's primary benchmark unless otherwise indicated. Based on Class R6 for the 3-year period. The 30-Day SEC Yield is computed in accordance with a standardized method prescribed by rules of the SEC. The 30-Day SEC Yield is computed by dividing the fund's investment income per share earned during a particular 30-day base period by the maximum offering price per share on the last day of the base period, and then annualizing the result. The 30-Day SEC Yield is calculated at each month end and updated within the first ten business days of the following month. Be advised that the 30-Day SEC Yield calculation does not account for return of capital. Please refer to the most recent Annual Report for additional information regarding the composition of distributions. The subsidized 30-Day SEC Yield reflects the reimbursements or waivers of certain expenses. Had fees not been waived and/or expenses reimbursed, the yield would be lower. The unsubsidized 30-Day SEC Yield does not reflect reimbursements or waivers of expense fees. Alpha is a coefficient measuring the portion of a fund's return arising from specific (non-market) risk. Historical Beta illustrates a fund's sensitivity to price movements in relation to a benchmark index. R-Squared is a statistical measure that represents the percentage of a fund's movements that can be explained by movements in a benchmark index. Standard Deviation is a statistical measurement that helps to gauge the fund's historical volatility. Information Ratio is a ratio of portfolio returns above those of a benchmark compared to the volatility of those returns. Sharpe Ratio is a risk-adjusted measure calculated by using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk. Tracking Error is the difference between the price behavior of a fund and the price behavior of a benchmark.

The S&P® Target Date Retirement Income Index is an unmanaged index used as a general measure of market performance. It is not possible to invest directly into an index. Calculations assume dividends and capital gains are reinvested and do not include any managerial expenses. Transamerica ClearTrack® target date options invest in exchange-traded funds (ETFs) which may represent a variety of broad asset classes including fixed income, domestic equity, foreign equity, real estate, and inflation-hedging positions and may be subject to all of the risks of these asset classes. ETFs generally present the same risks as an investment in a conventional fund that has the same investment objectives, strategies, and policies. The market price of an ETF's shares may be above or below the shares' net asset value; and an active trading market for an ETF's shares may not develop or be maintained. The allocations become more conservative over time: The fund's asset mix allocated to equities will decrease while the percentage allocated to fixed income will increase as the target date approaches. The higher the allocation is to equities, the greater the risk. The principal value of the investment option is never guaranteed, including at and after the target date. Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against market loss. Shares may be sold (or "redeemed") on any day the New York Stock Exchange is open for business. Proceeds from the redemption of shares will usually be sent to the redeeming shareholder within two business days after receipt in good order of a request for redemption. However, Transamerica Funds has the right to take up to seven days to pay redemption proceeds, and may postpone payment under certain circumstances, as authorized by law. Mutual funds are subject to market risk, including loss of principal.
